“THE GIFT OF LETTING GO”

*The angels gathered near your bed,
so very close to you,
For they knew the pain and suffering
you were going through,
We thought about so many things,
so we held tightly to you hand,
Oh, how we wished that you were strong and happy once again.
But your eyes were looking homeward,
to that place beyond the sky,
Where Jesus held his outstretched arms,
it was time to say good-bye.
We struggled with our selfish thoughts,
for we wanted you to stay,
So we could walk and talk again,
like we did just yesterday.
But Jesus knew the answer and we knew He loved you so,
So we gave to you
life's greatest gift,
The gift of letting go.*

Mrs. Lou Ella Stanfield Attucks was born in Seneca, South Carolina to the late James Stanfield and Eunice Arnold Stanfield on October 9, 1929.

She attended the Seneca Public Schools. She lived and worked in Hendersonville, North Carolina for many years prior to her move to Winston-Salem in the 1960's.

Mrs. Attucks was a long time member of Union Baptist Church and she retired from Forsyth Medical Center after many years of dedicated service in the hospital's housekeeping department.

She enjoyed the peace that she found while gardening and she offered nurture and comfort to children who came to her in-home nursery. Watching basketball was also a passion of hers. Her favorite basketball team was The Chicago Bulls, especially when Michael Jordan actively participated.

Mrs. Lou Ella Stanfield Attucks passed away at Silas Creek Rehabilitation Center in Winston-Salem on Monday, August 21, 2017 following a period of illness. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husbands, Marshall Staggs and Jessie Attucks; a daughter, Barbara Glenn; and two grandchildren, Karen Ayton and Rodney Staggs.

Those family members who survive and who will forever cherish loving memories of her include her son, Frankie M. (Avis) Staggs; her daughter, Doris Shelf; nine grandchildren and fifteen great grandchildren; several extended family members and friends.
