Miss Me But Let Me Go

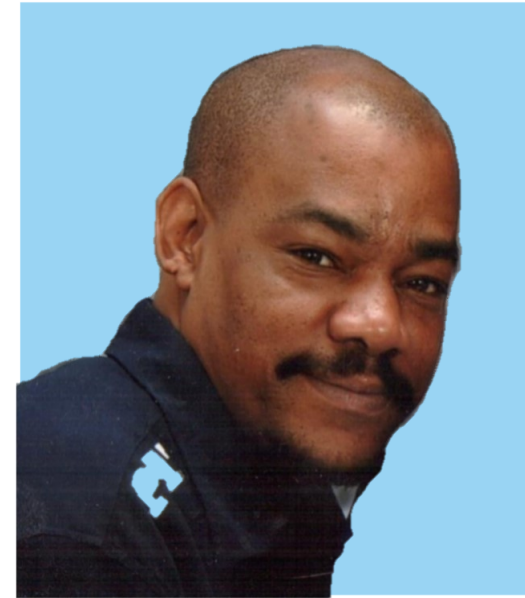

When I come to the end of the road,
and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room,
why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low,
remember the love that we once shared.
Miss me but let me go.
For this is a journey we all must take,
and each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
a step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart,
go to the friends we know.
Bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me but let me go.

Obituary

Love runs through our families, reaches hearts and lives, collecting distant members over miles and time through memories.

Inspired by Maya Angelou

Mr. Robert L. Stevenson was born on September 14, 1970 in Baltimore, Maryland to the late Robert Lee Stephney and Judy Stevenson.

In his youth he was a student in the Winston-Salem Forsyth County Schools. He had dual careers in maintenance and in the fast food industry. Cleaning, cooking and reading were truly his favorite passions.

On Friday, January 31, 2020 Robert passed away. In addition to his parents, Robert Lee Stephney and Judy Stevenson, he was preceded in death by his twins, Elijah and Elaysia Stevenson; an aunt, Barbara Stevenson; and uncles O'Ray and David Earl Stevenson.

Robert leaves to cherish his memories: his children, Terrion, Quasia, Raneeka, Armoni, and Rahajah Stevenson; a host of grandchildren; sisters, Monica Myers and Roberta (Rico) Harris; brothers, Larry Stevenson and Timothy Stevenson; aunts, Annie Stevenson and Lindsey Webb; and a host, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Thank you

Mere words do not adequately express our appreciation to everyone who shared a memory, whispered a prayer or offered support during this difficult time in our lives. Again, we thank you.
