

CORPORATE OBSERVATION

Employee theft, corporate espionage, drugs in the work place, stalking, litigation and more plague employers. They can not only hurt your company, they can put you out of business! Craig Investigations is here to help.

When you need real evidence, call Craig Investigations As licensed private investigators, we provide a covert undercover operation with high-tech surveillance equipment, CCTV, or a complex undercover sting operation that will hold up in court.

At Craig Investigations we have a proven track record of successful undercover operations that got results for our clients. We customize each case so you only get the services you need, whether it's a sting operation, a buy, a hidden camera surveillance or a traditional surveillance, we can help.

What makes us the right choice for the job? Beside the internal resources we offer including investigators, electronic surveillance experts and professional surveillance investigators, we have an extensive number of contacts in every area of undercover operations. If your case requires some specialization that we lack or need more of, we can act as your investigation consultants and manage these additional professionals for you.
