An Engineering Student's Guide to Report Writing and Communication Skills (ISSN: 2643-6272) is based on the eBook of Writing Style and Standards in Undergraduate Engineering Reports, 4e. The difference between the two titled projects is as follows:

- An Engineering Student's Guide to Report Writing and Communication Skills is assigned an ISSN (2643-6272), rather than a book ISBN, just like a journal publication, so it may be ordered directly by Schools of Engineering or Engineering Libraries or via their subscription agents.
- Online access is provided institution-wide to all engineering students via the university's IP address ranges or Learning Management System.
- Our discounted institutional pricing makes the institution-wide access option more affordable and immediately available to students.
- Online access is renewed on an annual basis.
- And of course, if instructors are only interested in the printed book (ISBN: 978-1-932780-18-5) or ebook (ISBN: 978-1-932780-20-8) of Writing Style and Standards in Undergraduate Engineering Reports, 4e, for a specific course they teach, then usual book ordering procedures apply.
