The Sneed family settled approximately one year later. Patriarch Miles Westbrook lived with the Sneed family around the age of 26 in Houston County, Texas, The Sneed's and the Westbrook's would rejoin, but not for long. Miles would return to Houston County to Marry Easter McLemore, and live out the rest of his days. Earlier around the year of Miles and Easter's birth. The year was circa 1854. Road overseers began work and settlers brought their slaves with them. The occurrence was more than reconstruction. It was railway tracks being laid during the Civil War. These tracks were laid continuously until long after the Civil War. Most impressive the railway later became Union Pacific. When the war ended in 1865, the road had been built from Corsicana to Taos. Otherwise known as Porters Bluff.

Winged - Landed of acute indigestion at age 49.
According to a Pastor in Crockett, Texas. As a young boy growing up, he vividly recalled Miles and Easter Janes's youngest daughter.
The Pastor described Lillie as absolutely stunning. He remembered her husband was a prominent Pastor, who purchased all of Lillie's, clothes himself.

Celia Clopton Owens (center below) married an Owens. Her children are related via marriage through Wesley Owens to the Westbrook's and Grecian through her origin
